The start of something beautiful

WEDDINGS are a joyous occasion for all. The special moments are countless. Watching an embrace from proud parents or the look in the couples' eyes as they unite as husband and wife, the day is special from any perspective. And as beautiful as the bride may be on that special day, the true beauty lies in the two people embarking on a life-long journey together.

MALAYSIAN WEDDINGS

Adat Berinai: In Malay weddings the bride-to-be typically dons Inai markings on her hands and arms to indicate new beginnings and a change in life.

Chinese Tea Ceremony: Chinese tea ceremonies offer a chance for both families to come together and meet one another before the big day.

Nallunge: The bride and groom will go through traditional cleansing and purifying rituals that lasts for three days prior to the wedding.
